Ref: Legal Notice for Dissolution of Marriage

Madam,

Under instruction from and on behalf of my client Mr. _____, son of Mr. _____
residing at _____. I do hereby serve you with the following notice, the contents of which are set forth herein below:

1. That you were married to my client on _____Day, of _____ according to Hindu rites and ceremonies in the presence of friends, relatives and family members of both the parties.
2. That after the marriage you and my Client lived together as husband and wife and cohabited with each other in Matrimonial house at _____.
3. That after, marriage my Client performed all his duties and obligations towards you as a husband and his old parents always treated you with respect and affection and always given you the status of their own daughter but unfortunately you were not happy with my Client as your demands had no limits, you used to demand for things which were beyond my Client's capabilities and upon his failure to meet your demand you used to abuse my Client and his parent with filthy languages and also used to insult him and his parent in different ways and sometimes you threaten my Client with dire consequences which caused my Client and his old parents terrible mental pain and agony.
4. That although my Client work under a very small designation and earn a nominal amount thereafter also he tried his level best to fulfill all the wishes of yours and always tried the best possible means to make you happy. But unfortunately all my Client's efforts went in vain. Though you were well aware of my Client's economical conditions even after that you used to demand for things which were beyond my Client's capabilities.
5. That in spite of all sorts of torture and harassments my Client had to continue his conjugal life with you with a failure expectation that with my Client's love and care you might change your nature and behavior but the same never came true.
6. That day by day mental and economical torture by you towards my client and his family has increased beyond the level of toleration and hence my client wants to dissolve his marriage immediately.

I, therefore, call upon you through this legal notice to execute the Divorce Deed and papers etc. dissolving this marriage immediately within a period of 15 days from the date of receipt of this legal notice, failing which my client shall be constrained to file appropriate proceedings against you in the court of law and in that event you shall be responsible for all costs, risks and responsibilities which you please note well.

A copy of this legal notice is retained in my office for record and further necessary action.
